1. What are we aiming to accomplish?
Provide meaningful improvement in the quality of life and economic opportunity for low-income individuals and families. Give those in need a chance for a better life or a second chance for a better quality of life. Break the cycle of hunger, homelessness and poverty by providing critically needed assistance to both individuals and families.

2. What are our strategies for making this happen?
Creating and implementing community specific programs that will enrich not only individuals but families as well. These programs will consist of several facets designed to help move each family from their current impoverished situation into a more sustainable quality of life. Developing micro-economic centers that are indigenous to the land and community will be the primary focus in the Caring For Others facilities in countries abroad.

3. What are our organization's capabilities for doing this?
We have already established two other NGOs in Antigua and Nigeria and are currently working on a third in Guyana South America. With these NGOs we will be able to adequately produce land indigenous programs for the overall betterment of some of the most impoverished areas.

4. How will we know if we're making progress?
We have direct on-site representatives that will provide and detailed information regarding specific statistics.

5. What have and haven't we accomplished so far?
Currently we have been able to garner the two international NGOs and are currently working on a third and a fourth. We have not yet implemented the micro-economic centers yet but they are in process.
