For Pete’s Sake Cancer Respite Foundation

History and Present

Peter Bossow experienced a “life takeover” in 1998 when he received a cancer diagnosis at age 29. Within seconds of hearing the words “poor rate of recovery” from his physician, the burdens of fear, anxiety, worry, and panic entered the lives of Pete, his wife Marci, and their vast network of loved ones.

Not knowing how else to help the young couple, Pete and Marci’s family and friends provided a gift – the gift of respite. This last cherished trip allowed them to temporarily escape the burdens and hardships that accompany cancer and to rebound from its crushing blow. Going away together helped them reconnect as a couple. It reminded them that the loving foundation of their marriage, although rocked by cancer, was still strong and intact. Their experience produced lasting memories of a time without financial boundaries or agenda. For a week, they celebrated the preciousness of life, relished the intimacy of a husband and wife, and dwelt only in the present. The joy of this respite was the only certainty in a completely uncertain future.

After Pete’s death, Marci celebrated the gift that was given to them by their loving friends and family by recreating it for others – thousands of others.

For Pete’s Sake was born.

Today, For Pete’s Sake has become the caring and compassionate organization that Pete envisioned. Using a proven evidence-based model, For Pete’s Sake has developed the concept of respite as it relates to the young adult cancer patient population, becoming the only respite centric organization in the country. Relying on nominations from Oncology Team Members in its five delivery states (PA, NJ, DE, NJ, and NY), FPS has developed clinical assessment factors that best identify those patients and families who would best benefit from the gift of respite as part of the continuum of cancer care. Using these factors, coupled with quantitative and qualitative outcomes measures, FPS has established itself as a leading authority in respite care for oncology clinicians eager to assist patients with the emotional, psychosocial, physical, financial, and spiritual factors of a cancer diagnosis. With demand for service beyond the capacity currently available, FPS has limited its service area to five states only; this being said, this plan envisions this service will be coming to the mid-Atlantic and Northeast corridor as part of its Respite Transformed Campaign (information to follow about this Campaign). Since Pete’s passing in 1999, For Pete’s Sake has helped over 10,000 people take a break from cancer to refresh, reconnect and rejuvenate during their journey, providing ongoing encouragement to this number with its formal Respite Reinforced program. Annually, we speak to thousands of patients, caregivers, and healthcare professionals involved in the cancer journey. Our annual touchpoints are over 22,000 yearly and then these touchpoints ensure continued communication with families in crisis and provide access to additional services. Join us as we impact thousands of families in the cancer crisis.
Today, FPS offers the gift of respite with two distinct programs: The Travel Respite Program and the Staycation Respite Program. Both programs require the patient to be nominated by a member of his/her oncology team who is keenly aware of the patient’s needs and recognizes the alignment of the FPS mission and outcomes with the patient’s clinical assessment factors.

The therapeutic benefits of respite have been well documented by outcome data collected since we started data collection in 2005. Ensuring a family’s overall health is strong during the cancer journey is critical to coping with this disease in the best way possible.

Respite has therapeutic benefits that span from emotional to physical to psychosocial, with lots in between! And these benefits are not just for the patient, but also the caregiver and children of the patient.

The FPS Respite Model below outlines the impact of respite on family health and moreover, no family has a financial burden to experience respite. While on Travel Respite at Woodloch, families participate in carefully sourced activities that address the benefits, including meditation and chair yoga, cupcake wars, art therapy, nature walks and team building activities. The FPS Staycation Respite includes materials that address the areas of health outlined below within the confines of a family’s home. Together we make love greater than cancer!

The FPS Travel Respite Program: In the Travel Respite Program, our program coordinators work closely with each family to ensure a meaningful experience and each respite is unique and impactful. The respite itself, scheduled by an FPS oncology nurse, is tailored towards the specific medical and individual needs of the patient and family members. A typical respite is six days and includes a generous cash stipend, travel costs, accommodations, a For Pete’s Sake welcome bag with travel items and other materials that assist in the respite experience, including writing journals, materials to encourage family communication, inspirational and spiritual books on coping and hope, therapeutic art activities, and other carefully selected items to help make the respite meaningful emotionally and spiritually. Every child that participates in the program receives a “Backpack Buddy” consisting of a sack with games, handwritten cards from peers, a journal, and other items important to the child’s experience. To memorialize the experience, FPS assembles a special FPS photo.

Upon return from respite, the patient completes a post-respite evaluation which in turn is correlated to monthly qualitative and quantitative outcome measures. Nominators also return an evaluation for each patient that measures patient, caregiver, and children’s coping levels with cancer both pre-respite and post-respite. The measurements are captured monthly and are published on the organization’s website as part of our commitment to transparency.

FPS has designed an overview of the therapeutic benefits of respite and these benefits are comprehensive. What we often hear from our families is that the simplicity of respite is overlooked so often in our daily lives. For example, being an ill parent and having the opportunity on respite to have your children eat healthy and consistent meals is significant. Normalcy, even for a short period of time, is welcome. And control over decisions of what to do and not to do during respite time is a behavior that has been lost since diagnosis.

Currently, FPS is exclusively working with our travel partner, Woodloch Resort, and nominated families are invited to spend five nights/six days at this safe, top-rated family destination. The outcomes from the Woodloch experience demonstrate the impact respite has on the family’s well-being. With Woodloch’s assistance, FPS continues to tailor the respite to each family’s unique, pressing needs as identified by the nominating health professional. At Woodloch, families are able to participate in specific activities exclusive to FPS families which address these benefits. Such activities include mediation and chair yoga, cupcake wars, art therapy, nature walks, and team building activities sure to delight and develop family communication.

For Pete’s Sake supplements additional respite locations with discounted resort stays at Kieve Wavus, and RV on the Go. Collaborating with third-party providers has enabled FPS to offer its respite services to a larger population because of the generosity of travel partners. For the past eleven years, FPS has been partnering with Camp Wavus in Maine and has been able to provide respite for ten families that travel simultaneously and participate in limited activities collectively while at Wavus. After careful evaluation of the outcomes associated with these simultaneous respites, FPS chose in 2019 to pilot several simultaneous respites in different locations. The results of having families congregate together were strong and thus, FPS has continued with this model of respite since the pandemic started in March 2020 with Travel Partner Woodloch Resort.

The Staycation Respite Program: As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, FPS quickly pivoted its mission to include a Staycation Respite Program. While FPS has been offering this program to families who become too ill to travel, FPS has never offered it as a direct point of entry. In 2018, the FPS Patient Advisory Committee (comprised of program nominators) recommended that a point of entry be established and while this was still in the evaluation phase at the onset of the pandemic, FPS quickly made significant adaptations to ensure that the emotional and psychosocial needs of the families were able to be met during this pandemic. Thus, FPS tested a successful pilot with the University of Pennsylvania Health System, University of Maryland, and MD Anderson Cooper. In July 2020, the FPS Staycation Respite program was officially launched.

The Staycation package encourages the patient, caregiver and immediate family to Take A Break at Home and includes resources to address the emotional, psycho-social, physical, financial, and spiritual factors of the family unit. Respite is respite, regardless of where and how a family is able to find peace, solace, comfort, connection and conversation. The therapeutic benefits from our Staycation resources align with those received via the travel respite program. Further, each Staycation includes a generous cash stipend to enable families to create memories with an experience, meal or other activity close to home.

Respite Reinforced – Beyond the FPS Respite: Following the respite, a family’s relationship with FPS continues as part of a defined pattern of communication and access to support. Families are able to participate in “mini-breaks” through events, sporting outings, and entertainment tickets. Through Respite Reinforced, in the form of phone calls every 3 to 6 months post-respite, our goal is to allow families to experience emotional respite in different places at different times. Our dedicated staff knows how important this support is in the family’s journey with cancer and we are sure to provide an environment for therapeutic healing and continued support for all those who reach out in a crisis. In addition to Respite Reinforced, we have a widower group, The Carry-on Club that hosts social events, complimentary seminars and gives support to each other through difficult times. We also have private chat groups for both Travelers and the Carry-on Club. These pages allow all those within the FPS community to connect and uplift one another. We believe that community enriches in the most important way.

Our support beyond the FPS Respite takes many forms, and our mission has organically grown to include additional services. Such as Monthly e-newsletters which both educate and inspire our patients and caregivers. We provide educational resources, healthy recipes to nourish the body, and inspirational stories about our community. A complimentary copy of After Cancer Care, a book authored by preeminent oncologists that discusses integrative oncology and the emotional, psychosocial, and spiritual needs of patients and their families. A complimentary Traveler Reception hosted each year brings our community together to reflect on the challenges of the past year and celebrate the hope in tomorrow. The annual holiday initiative where some families receive an angel ornament, secret Santa gifts, and financial assistance. Invitations to amusement parks and sporting events, as donated tickets become available. Our Annual Phillies Game Outing is a Philadelphia-fan favorite for our families! Complimentary admission to FPS Events, including For Pete’s Sake, Walk! at Citizens Bank Park. We also welcome our FPS families to join us at all fundraising events they are interested in. Our hope is that in giving to others and paying it forward for the next families, there is the healing of one’s own mind, body, and spirit.

Introduction and Executive Summary

What a Gift! This short statement truly sums up the last twenty-three years as Founder of For Pete’s Sake Cancer Respite Foundation. We have been able to share the gift of love and laughter with so many families facing the devastating disease of cancer. We have been showered with the gift of generosity from so many donors who have given selflessly of their time, talent, and treasure. And today, we cherish the gift of the FPS community in our own lives. Each one of us is part of the wrapping paper that keeps our gift of an FPS respite vacation continually available to those in need.

We have been able to help thousands affected by cancer over the years and today, clinicians rely on our organization in their treatment protocol related to the psychosocial effects of cancer. With this in mind, we have approached this strategic plan from a sustainability standpoint with the ultimate goal of ensuring that FPS will play a part in the continuum of care for years to come. While we will continue to help more and more families each year, we will also sharply focus on organizational stability through the creation of endowment and reserve funds. While the past twenty years have been a journey, we know that the future too will also unfold as we remain focused on our strategic initiatives.

While we look to continually expand our program, we will always maintain the integrity of respite in the continuum of cancer care. This level of commitment to our mission is the driving force behind the creation and adoption of this strategic plan. Our five main themes reflect this level of commitment. First, we have Mission Expansion, our plan to advance the mission of FPS for all stakeholders to successfully serve all those within our geographic footprint; this component has an emphasis on capital infrastructure. Second, Mission Brand, outlines how FPS will be a valued, well-respected, and well-known resource with a positive, recognizable brand. Third, Financial Stewardship, demonstrates how we will effectively execute our mission for an increased number of families by ensuring both annual operating revenue stability and long-term financial stability. Fourth, Operational Excellence, explores how FPS will be the best practices nonprofit that utilize all external and internal resources to affect the most efficient and effective delivery of our mission. Lastly, in Program Excellence, FPS has action steps to be the leader in the delivery of respite services to cancer patients in our geographic footprint.

As we look to execute this plan, let us keep in mind the famous quote of William Penn: “I expect to pass through life but once. If therefore, there be any kindness I can show, or any good thing I can do to any fellow being, let me do it now, and not defer or neglect it, as I shall not pass this way again.” Thank you for your interest in FPS, our mission, and most importantly, the lives we touch each and every day.

Let us take this moment, seize this moment and most importantly, cherish the gift of kindness in helping another as we look forward to the future of FPS! For Pete’s Sake, for Patients’ Sake, for Our Sake, let us unite and as we pass through this world, work together to make it better!

The Importance of Credibility and Sustainability to Our Community

For any charity, the credibility of the mission and sustainability of a nonprofit are at the forefront of every discussion about mission development. Thus, For Pete’s Sake was founded on the premise that a successful organization is one that is transparent, sustainable, and credible. Thus, over the past twenty years, FPS has proudly embraced transparency and welcomed input from responsible constituents. Further, it has developed a Statement of Value Proposition which outlines those areas critical to credibility. This Statement is attached as Exhibit A. Outlined below are third party accreditations that demonstrate our commitment to our mission:

For Pete’s Sake is proud to display this Seal of Excellence awarded by Pennsylvania Association of Nonprofit Organizations (PANO). FPS is one of only 191 nonprofits nationwide with this designation. Certification in the Standards for Excellence program is bestowed only to the most well-managed and responsibly governed nonprofit organizations that have demonstrated compliance with The Standards for Excellence® code. It identifies 6 major areas of nonprofit governance and management which contain 27 different topic areas. Each topic area includes specific benchmarks and measures that provide a structured approach to building capacity, accountability, and sustainability in your organization. FPS has met, complied with, and integrated the certification program. For more information about the Standards for Excellence program, visit http://www.pano.org/Standards-For-Excellence/.

GuideStar is a third-party reviewer of nonprofit organizations, maintaining a website at www.guidestar.org with pages dedicated to each registered nonprofit. Most GuideStar pages present data submitted to the IRS. IRS information, however, does not always provide GuideStar’s 22,000 daily visitors a complete or timely picture of the nonprofit. The GuideStar Exchange is an optional way to present complete information to the public through a 3rd party verified website.

Charity Navigator is a third-party 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that independently evaluates charities registered in the United States. Charity Navigator internally selects charities to evaluate based on several criteria. Eligible charities must be a 501(c)(3) organization, more than 7 years old, and depend on support from individual givers. They require public support to be more than $500,000 and total revenue more $1,000,000 in the most recent fiscal year. They will not review charities that receive most of their funding from government grants, or from the fees they charge for their programs and services. They do not evaluate private foundations, 501(c)(4) organizations, or organizations exempt from filing a Form 990. Currently, approximately 7,000 charities are evaluated by Charity Navigator.
GreatNonprofits is a nonprofit organization that describes itself as “the leading developer of tools that allow people to find, review, and share information about great -- and perhaps not yet great -- nonprofits.” GreatNonprofits offers a platform for anyone who has had direct experience with a charitable organization to share their opinions via online reviews.

“I have always been scared of the word "Cancer". But in 2018 I heard the most dreaded word. Felt like my world is ending. But God helped me go through all the cancer treatments during the pandemic that makes it a little more challenging. I believe that God send people as his representative here on earth and one of which is FPS. They are not just nonprofit organization they are FAMILY. They send us to Woodloch, and I have felt so connected again with my loved ones. Connecting with the people I love and the people that is going through same thing that I went through really helps. Our purpose is to support one another and that is what FPS does. Thank you, FPS Family.”

Woodloch respite August 2020

“Everything has been about me for the past year, so it was so nice that this trip was about all of us. My whole family went through my cancer journey, so they all needed a break. Having this time being about us as a whole was so important in our reconnection as a family.”
Our Nomination Network

We partner with Oncology Professionals from a variety of accredited cancer centers in our geographic footprint. The process we have established allows for Oncology teams to seamlessly nominate their patients for a much-deserved break from cancer, either in the Travel Respite program or the Staycation Respite Program, and then have access to the ongoing support offered by the FPS community. Because of the Travel Partner relationship with Woodloch Resort under our current operating model, we have found ease in managing nominator expectations and we continue to witness effective, efficient execution of the respite program.

325 Oncologists, Nurses, Social Workers & Patient Navigators Have Nominated at Least One Patient to Receive a For Pete’s Sake Respite.

For Pete’s Sake receives nominations from oncology professionals at over 100 hospitals and cancer treatment centers.

Our oncology partners:

“...It is a special privilege to nominate my patients to For Pete’s Sake as a unique part of their continuum of patient care. My patients fight a battle that drains them emotionally, physically, financially and spiritually. A break from cancer treatments gives them a chance to refuel with their loved ones, and return stronger than ever, ready for the challenges that await them.”

Our Support Network

For Pete’s Sake receives financial support from hundreds of corporations each year through sponsorship and general donation requests. Since our inception in 1999, we have had over 3,190 organizations support our mission with both in-kind and monetary support and volunteer assistance. Just this past fiscal year ended June 2022, we had 4,295 annual appeal gifts with over 7,565 gifts in total to raise almost 4.0 million dollars.

Vital to our success are the donations collected from our individual supporters. They are so important to the advancement of our mission. According to givingusa.org out of the $410.02 Billion given to charity in the US in 2018, 70% came from individual donors. Heartfelt individual contributions mean the world to us.

We also receive support through our partnership with a variety of Travel Partners. Our Travel Partners are in the hospitality industry and donate accommodations, transportation, and entertainment that directly impact FPS Families on their respite vacations. Their generous support allows hundreds of families each year to enjoy a much-needed break from cancer.

We are so thankful for our support network! Some of our partners are listed below and our website contains a more comprehensive snapshot on an annual basis.
Financial Stewardship

At For Pete’s Sake Cancer Respite Foundation, we are proud of our financial integrity and our commitment to stewardship using the financial resources entrusted to us by our community of family and friends. Each year we undergo an audit as required by the Pennsylvania Department of Charitable Organizations. We are proud that 77 cents of every dollar are expended for our program. We take our role as stewards of our donors’ treasures and talent very seriously, and hence, we carefully watch all expenditures made by the organization. We ensure their generosity is channeled directly to benefit those adult cancer patients and their loved ones traumatized by cancer.

As outlined in our updated Strategic Plan, FPS will effectively execute our mission for an increased number of families by ensuring both annual operating revenue stability and long-term financial stability. By 2030, FPS predicts that 25% of our program costs will come from sustainable sources such as endowment, third-party payments, planned giving, cause marketing, and other sustainable opportunities.

As we prepared the budget for the 2023 year, we acknowledged the uncertain environment that is presented as a result of the recent pandemic. The budget is focused on the long-term sustainability of the mission while the current environment maintains in a state of flux. Thus, the budget approved by the Finance Committee and adopted by the board is a conservative budget focused on long-term operations.

As part of our commitment to transparency, FPS each year compiles an Annual Report which provides a financial snapshot of the organization at the fiscal year-end. As a result of strategic planning, FPS has started an endowment, long and short-term reserves, and a capital fund to better posture the organization and its sustainability. Thus, this Annual Report provides an overview of the financial posture of the organization. You can view past years of reports on our website at www.takeabreakfromcancer.org.

FPS also maintains a Monthly Scorecard that clearly indicates the various KPIs from not only a financial perspective, but also a program, marketing, and development perspective. These scorecards are provided upon request and do contain unaudited financials for the current year. FPS is proud of its reliance on KPIs to measure success across all platforms of a sustainable, effective, and efficient nonprofit.
Our Mission in Action

Mission Impact

FPS has modeled its program with a focus on the overall concept of coping with cancer by the entire family unit, including this patient, caregiver, and often, young children. To prove this concept, FPS has supported its model with four evidentiary findings over the past twenty years that include:

1. Oncologist feedback both pre and post respite to evaluate patient, caregiver, and children’s ability to cope with cancer. Data has been collected since 2005.
2. Standard post respite evaluation of effectiveness on a 0 to 4 scale as determined by the patient. Data has been collected since 2005.
3. A formal research study by qualified clinicians compiling data in a formal research study focusing on four significant results:
   a. Improvement in Relationship quality among family members (this includes spouses and children of varying ages)
   b. Work and life endurance/ renewed stamina for the cancer journey
   c. Patient treatment compliance post respite with established protocols
   d. The Benefit of Joy/Mental break in the continuum of care for patients.

Data is collected immediately post respite, six months post respite, and one-year post respite for all participants, including patients, caregivers, and children. This data has been collected since 2014 and in June 2020, the study was closed to any new participants. Currently, the data is being scored professional and FPS looks forward to the evaluation to further support the necessity of respite as a family and social support to improve connections not only within the immediate family unit but with other natural societal connections including those with one’s medical team, one’s work community, one’s neighborhood community, and one’s extended community. A whitepaper is planned to be completed on the study outcomes and published in 2023.

4. Detailed outcomes related to the Respite Pilot since 2019 of families traveling simultaneously with one another have been collected and published on the FPS website.
   https://takeabreakfromcancer.org/strategic-initiatives/

5. In May 2020, the American Society of Clinical Oncologists published an abstract related to the outcomes associated with the Community Respite Pilot. These outcomes are charted on the next several pages and clearly demonstrate the amazing impact of respite across the broad spectrum of program participants. The data on the following charts supports the FPS Strategic Initiative about pursuing the capital infrastructure necessary to offer year-round community respites in a centralized location.
“Now I can go home not feeling helpless. I’m going home with a better outlook on my life! That when I am alone, I don’t feel alone. I always have God! This was a beautiful place. So peaceful, never negative energy at all. I left to come here upset with my life, ready to give up. And now I am leaving this place with peace in my heart, knowledge in my mind about people of everyday walks of life! And knowing that it’s not where we start, but where we end. And for that, I am truly blessed to have come here! Thank you for allowing me to come!”

Nahomi Enrico, 33, traveled to Woodloch in August 2021.

“Getting to relax makes you realize there is more to life than worrying about your disease and future. It shows you to live in the moment. Seeing me smile shows my dad I still have fun in life and that is what he strives to do as a parent.”
Nominator Outcome Measures

FPS Respite data and outcomes have been recognized by the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO) and published in April 2000 in the FPS abstract, Individual and community respite as supportive care for adult cancer patients, their caregivers, and their families. impact of respite on patients, caregivers, and their families relative to strengthened communication, relationships, quality of care, and coping with cancer.

Hospital and cancer-centered based oncology professionals use clinical assessment factors and our program guidelines to identify and nominate their patients to our respite program. Through close collaboration with oncology professionals, we continue to create an informed and adaptable respite environment that then translates to strong, lasting outcomes for families. FPS strives to create a meaningful experience for each traveler.

Our patients and nominators complete pre and post respite surveys that result in qualitative and quantitative data on the effectiveness of our respite vacation program. The charts below show pre and post respite outcome measures answered by the nominating oncology team. The outcome measures focus not only on the patient but on their caregivers and children as well. This allows for a well-rounded experience result. The data that we have collected since the 06-07 FY shows that 100% of nominators report improvement in their patients’ outlook on life and cancer after traveling with FPS. The last chart shows quantitative data collected from post respite self-evaluations completed by the patient. This data shows a positive trend in the patient, caregiver, and family post respite coping.
Nominator Outcome Measures
Caregiver Focused

Question: How would you quantify your Patient’s caregiver’s ability to cope with cancer?

Nominator Outcome Measures
Children Focused

Question: How would you quantify your Patient’s children’s ability to cope with cancer?
Furthermore, oncology professionals themselves report renewed strength and stamina in the clinical setting.
Patient Outcome Measures

Collected on a scale from 1 to 4, patients are given the opportunity to scale coping mechanisms post respite as a family unit. The chart below signifies that from a patient viewpoint, positive results are attained for the entire family unit.

Preliminary Scoring of Formal Research Project

While data from the formal research project is being scored, the preliminary analysis does conclude that there are several areas of statistically significant improvement in communication, family relationships, and overall coping. FPS expects this data to be scored by January of 2021.

Community Respite Outcomes

As part of its pilot, FPS has designed a vigorous data collection process for the community respite pilot. This data demonstrates significant outcomes with an additional component of organic communal support. The charts on the next two pages demonstrate some of these outcomes and further support the strategic direction of FPS in building a dedicated respite center.

The first chart measures pre- and post-respite concern levels in the patient only. There is a significant decrease in all concern levels as depicted by this chart. The largest differences are evident in the following areas:
a. Wellbeing of Family Members
b. Care of Family Members
c. Uncertainty of Future
d. Future Treatment
e. Cost of Medical Treatment
f. Returning to Work

The Patients and their caregivers were given a post-respite survey to complete that was comprised of I agree statements. The statements were scaled as follows: Strongly Agree, Agree, Neutral, Disagree, Strongly Disagree. Below are the results, where virtually all patients agreed or strongly agreed with the statements.
Recognition by American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO)

In May 2020, FPS submitted an abstract to ASCO, the leading oncology professional organization known as the American Society of Clinical Oncologists. The abstract outlined the therapeutic benefits of simultaneous community respite and the significance of these benefits in addressing resiliency, coping, anxiety, and other emotional and psycho-social facets significant to one’s mental health. ASCO chose to publish this abstract as part of its annual meeting, and we are both humbled and privileged for this recognition. Below is a snapshot of some of the qualitative data that supports the significance of respite in the continuum of care.

7/13/2020 Meeting Library | Individual and community respite as supportive care for adult cancer patients, their caregivers, and their families.

Conclusions:

Studies support that respite is critical as a complementary therapy in treatment protocol in the adult population segment with young families. Care-free, cost-free organized respite helps improve one’s overall coping with a cancer diagnosis, improves the families’ psychosocial health, results in increased communication and strengthened relationships as a family unit, reduces anxiety, and improves patient compliance with the future treatment protocol. FPS has also studied the impact of group respite v. individual respite and documents that a group setting lessens anxiety, strengthens relationships, and promotes communication with peer support. Best practices from this respite program can assist in both the short-term and long-term psychosocial and mental health of patients and their families so to optimize coping and healing related to cancer.

In May 2021, FPS submitted an abstract to APOS, the only multidisciplinary organization in the United States dedicated to researching and treating the psychosocial aspects of cancer. This abstract outlined the data contained from a five-year blind study that had hundreds of our respite program participants. The information below is a snapshot of some of the study’s findings. FPS is presenting these findings at the 2022 Annual Meeting.

For Pete’s Sake Strategic Methodology and Framework

Strategic Plan Vision 2030

The For Pete’s Sake Board of Directors and the Senior Leadership Team utilized a thorough strategic planning process to identify and prioritize the key strategic objectives and improvement initiatives for the next five years.

All key internal and external stakeholders provided input to the planning process to ensure that all important issues would be considered when setting the priorities.

The planning process outputs included a Strategy Map and the creation of initiative charters. Improvement initiatives are the primary tactical tools to successfully execute the strategy. These charters provide more detail and assign tasks and timelines to responsible staff and volunteers who will complete them. For Pete’s Sake will focus on no more than 5 Initiative Charters at one time, which is the recommended strategy for a staff of our size.

This strategic planning document contains five primary components:

1. FPS Strategy Formulation Process
2. FPS Mission and Vision
3. FPS Strategy Map
4. Strategic Initiatives
5. Successful Execution of the Strategic Plan
Using this process, FPS developed a comprehensive SWOT Analysis to identify Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities & Threats. As the SWOT Analysis was evaluated, recurrent themes were used in the identification, evaluation, and priority of the strategic plan initiatives.
For Pete’s Sake Mission and Vision
