

May 12, 2002

With regard to an international speaking tour by Patrick Reynolds, Mr. Reynolds is a member of the RJ Reynolds tobacco family, but is well known for turning his back on the family business and instead choosing to become a global voice for tobacco control. He eloquently denounces the tobacco business, and has specially targeted messages for children. He has particular expertise in working with a country's media, and also in bringing these messages to governments.

Dr Judith Mackay
Director, Asian Consultancy on Tobacco Control