

Coach Training Evaluation Comments

10/14/18 Vancouver, Husband - What I liked most about the training is that it is repeatable, sustainable, and useable by just about everyone. It has practical steps, great documentation, and is flexible yet has guidelines to keep boundaries in place.

10/14/18 Vancouver, Husband - Our final coaching session began very rough because there was a lot of emotion about an underlying issue, Using the skills we had learned we were able to coach our couple through their conflict. This experience was awesome!

10/14/18 Vancouver, Wife - Training was more than I expected and really good for our marriage as we talked about issues we hadn't addressed and didn't know how to bring up. We are excited about having new tools for talking about them as well.

10/14/18 Vancouver, Husband - The training exceeded my expectations and I most liked the real coaching sessions. While they gave me some anxiety, they were very helpful. I could never have gained the confidence that I can be a successful coach without them.

10/14/18 Vancouver, Wife - MarriageTeam is amazing, just getting to know your organization has been an amazing blessing. The process has been created and executed with diligence, creativity, and wisdom.

10/14/18 Vancouver, husband and pastor – What I like most about the training is that it is very practical and the process is very simple and can be used for all relationships. The training exceeded my expectations and I walk away feeling very hopeful and equipped to coach couples.

10/14/18 Vancouver, Wife – The training really gave me the tools I needed that I had never heard about before. I can see that it really works. I love the coaching manual and how easy it is and how you just follow the instructions and let the Holy Spirit do the rest.

10/14/18 Vancouver, Husband – The training was well beyond our expectations. I especially liked the coaching system and confidence to help others as well as the help we got in our own marriage.

03/18/18 Vancouver, Husband – The training is relatively brief compared to the impact we can make. i.e. I don't need a PhD to bless marriages.

03/18/18 Vancouver, Wife – The training absolutely exceeded my expectations. The material is great, easy to understand. I loved the opportunity to actually coach and be coached. The best part of it is that Christ is the center.

03/18/18 Vancouver, Wife – I was nervous about coaching but the coaching we did during our training has made me ready to go out and help others.

03/18/18 Vancouver, Wife – We learned to listen and speak and confront issues head-on – no excuses or delays. You guys kept it real fun and informative.

03/18/18 Vancouver, Wife – I am impressed by the spirit and commitment of the trainers. The curriculum is great and I liked that we practiced the coaching process throughout the training.

02/26/17 Salem Class, Wife - The coach training exceeded my expectations because it was a well thought through coaching process and the training itself was well organized. The overview along with the experience of both being coached and coaching others had a huge impact. The opportunity to have help in how to approach effective communication and problem solving was very helpful personally but also helped me grow in confidence that perhaps we really could coach others.

02/26/17 Salem Class, Husband - Getting coached was beyond what I could have imagined.

02/26/17 Salem Class, Husband - It helped me realize that yes I can be a better listener. I feel more confident that with these new tools our marriage can continue to become richer.

02/26/17 Salem Class, Husband - The coach training opened up more communication in our marriage and gave us tools to improve that communication. The practice coaching was beneficial in preparing me to coach later on.

02/26/17 Salem Class, Wife - The coach training was well presented. The teachers were articulate, organized, adaptable and interactive. We have attended a lot of different marriage counseling, retreats, seminars, read books, watched videos, podcasts and been mentored but this was by far the best and the richest.

02/26/17 Salem Class, Wife - I feel equipped with tools – Proven Tools- to coach couples.

02/26/17 Salem Class, Wife - I went in hoping to enrich our marriage and came out with skills and knowledge that not only greatly improved our communication and broke down barriers but I will be able to pass these tools on to other couples to help them in their relationships. The practice coaching session allowed us to dig deep and deal with issues we haven't been able to address yet and at the same time helped us practice asking proper questions.

02/26/17 Salem Class, Wife - Marriage coach training has the power to change marriages and lives! "A tool" to help change the moral fabric of society!

02/26/17 Salem Class, Husband - The coach training provides excellent materials that are well put together.

10/2016 Vancouver, Husband - I would like to extend a very heartfelt thank you to the both of you for doing what you do. Jennifer and I were a part of your last Marriage Team training course. We joined the class only because our new marriage was quickly spiraling downward and we needed and wanted help. We had heard good things about MarriageTeam from friends. We had no intentions of becoming coaches. We love each other very much but that wasn't enough. I would like you to know that we actively practice and use the tools and methods we learned in the course. Rarely does a day go by that we don't put them into active practice. Even when the principals aren't communicated verbally, they are on our minds and in our hearts. I would like to extend a special thank you to Autumn for her compassion and her ability to recognize what was going on in my heart and mind when I was unable to verbalize what I wanted to say. Her discernment, compassion and assertiveness operate together as an incredible and rare gift. Also the dynamic between the two of you makes you a powerful instrument of the Holy Spirit and a powerful weapon against the enemy of our souls. We came into the class not intending to become coaches but have since realized what a wonderful thing MarriageTeam is. Our marriage has benefitted greatly because of your ministry and we are happy and moving forward. We aren't ready to coach at this time but we are ever grateful and have discussed the possibility of coaching in the future.

03/2016 Vancouver Class, Wife - I could feel the presence of the Holy Spirit working. I appreciated the openness and the ease of presenters. They were patient and willing to attend each and every couple's concerns, guiding with Christ-like love that could be felt. The Coaching Manual was well done. I liked that we were not rushing to get through the material.

03/2016 Vancouver Class, Husband - I am armed with tools and I learned that I don't need to have all the answers. What a relief! I can use coaching tools to help the distressed couple find their own answers.

03/2016 Vancouver Class, Husband - this training went beyond my expectations. As we started I anticipated to just get some tools to use if we found someone who needed coaching. What we got was a very organized, step-by-step, repeatable program (that relies on the Holy Spirit) with great support from the MarriageTeam office and a curriculum that works.

03/2016 Vancouver Class, Wife - I like the fact that even though we are talking about very serious subject there was levity with it and though you bare your most secret self you are in a safe environment.

03/2016 Vancouver Class, Wife – What I loved about the course is that the coaching process starts working immediately, the first session. I love that the process allows for clear and safe communication with the focus on listening to your mate and understanding. The program doesn't allow couples to dwell on problems but leads them to explore new options of interacting, which guides them to resolutions, improving the relationship immediately.

10/2015 Vancouver Class. Wife - The tools offered in conjunction with the Holy Spirit are life long tools and transfer to all aspects of life relationships; home, extended family and work. This experience has allowed my spouse to become aware of ideas of how to become a more purposed human being, spouse, father and friend.

10/2015 Vancouver Class. Wife - The process equips non-professionals to make a difference for families through the help of the Holy Spirit; that's POWERFUL!

10/2015 Vancouver Class. Wife – Thank you for this amazing organization! Thank you for obeying God to create the coaching process and put all the tools together in organized manual we can use. I am proud to partner with MarriageTeam and become a MarriageTeam Coach to assist others!

03/2016 Vancouver Class. Husband -

I am leaving this training with a sense of "I can DO THIS! I can help to coach other couples!" The material makes sense to me. It has a logical and practical system and flow that builds positive communication and personal growth.

03/2016 Vancouver Class. Wife - I received training on communication that impacted my life in a positive helpful way. I wish I had known these skills years ago.

03/2015 Vancouver Class. Husband – The ministry of MarriageTeam is an ideal ministry for couples who desire to serve together and help support other couples.

01/2015 Eugene Class. Husband – I came hoping to improve my marriage and learn to help others; Mission Accomplished! The materials and concepts presented were outstanding. The coaching experience was very beneficial. I really appreciate the “heart for ministry” the trainers have. Thank you for answering God’s call.

01/2015 Eugene Class. Wife - The Coaching Manual has so much information and can walk me through areas where I will need help when we coach others. The coaching exercises helped me see and experience how the coaching process is supposed to work.

01/2015 Eugene Class. Wife - The coaching exercises, with other couples in the class, was my favorite part because it was the practical experience I needed.

01/2015 Eugene Class. Wife - I like that we were expected to put into practice what we were learning (by doing the teamwork exercises and the coaching sessions). Thank you.

01/2015 Eugene Class. Wife - This training exceeded my expectations. It’s so effective and easy to implement and has a straight forward structure. I loved that we were given lots of practice! I gained skills and insight that I can take away today and use with my family, friends and co-workers. I was able to tell everyone about the process with ease because it clearly works and could help everyone!

01/2015 Eugene Class. Wife – I really liked the couple to couple coaching exercises. It was such a practical experience. Praying for each couple before the session opened the door for God to work. The presenters shared real examples from their marriage and came across as very authentic people.

01/2015 Eugene Class. Wife – I found the relapse statements very useful. I like the idea of planning ahead in the event one spouse fails to implement the new plan. Many of the seminars and conferences we have attended have used similar tools but they didn’t help us plan on for “what happens if the new plan falls apart”. I found it very helpful.

10/2014 Vancouver Class. Wife- The information was amazing and that the class was God centered. My husband and I have always had a great marriage but now we have tools to make it spectacular!

10/2014 Vancouver Class. Husband- I enjoyed the practice coaching sessions to sharpen our skills. The ability to process with different couples really reinforced learning the skills and program for me. Being coached by other couples, enabled me to experience the process of being coached, which allowed me to appreciate how effective coaching can be immediately in changing the dynamics and set patterns in a marriage to produce constructive outcomes.

10/2014 Vancouver Class. Husband- I grasped the concepts because Alan and Autumn explained things so clearly and reviewed things we had learned previously in the class. The manual is written so well. It is very easy to understand the step-by-step lesson plans. I really enjoyed meeting other new coach couples and learning together in a class environment.
