Camp Fire Earns 2022 CNM Certification

Fort Worth, Texas (February 28, 2022) – Camp Fire First Texas was approved for and earned the 2022 CNM Certification.

For 40 years, CNM has helped strengthen nonprofits by focusing on results through strategic management and data expertise using leading-edge technology.

“One of Camp Fire’s core values is data-informed practice, and we are thrilled to receive this certification in recognition of that effort. We continually use data to inform programmatic and organizational decisions and we thank CNM for their collaboration in helping us do that. We know that data tells the story of an organization so our motto is “no data without stories and no stories without data,” said Lauren Richard, President/CEO of Camp Fire First Texas.

This certification confirms that Camp Fire First Texas is:

- using valid methodology for collecting, analyzing and reporting program outcomes;
- making data-driven decisions;
- improving program performance; and
- engaging stakeholders in a meaningful way.

“Our team is out in the community daily. To, again, achieve this level of recognition for our methods and practices fuels the passion and purpose for the work we do. It also speaks volumes to those community partners who support our work with their time, talents and funding,” explained Camp Fire First Texas Senior Vice President of Early Education Workforce Development, Lyn Lucas.
