All aspects of the Check Global Program share a goal of improving digital literacy, community-building and political engagement skills for citizen journalists, activists, journalism students, civil society organizations and human rights defenders, thus strengthening their role as investigators and contributors to the public sphere. In 2020, we also released the Content Moderation Toolkit for Civil Society as a framework toward a common vocabulary and methodology for content moderation as a toolkit for civil society and platforms alike.

We are committed to strengthening the capacities of our partners to use media and technology to:

- Counter the rise of misinformation and disinformation - Provide credible information and address inequalities in access to information.

Over the course of 2020, expressed through <https://health-desk.org> (formerly under <https://learnaboutcovid19.org>), our Digital Health Lab team has researched, tested and co-designed a collaborative fact-checking model for health content based on syndication.

We tested a hypothesis that a rapid-response process where a team of health experts distill scientific evidence based on requests made by fact-checkers—requests that other communicators around the world may also have— we can meet the needs of audiences searching for health information online more efficiently, at larger scales, across regions, and directly where searching takes place. This initiative involves:

- Collecting critical pandemic-related queries directly from fact-checking organizations and other community information leaders

- Triaging COVID-19 content to send to team members with specific public health expertise to provide standardized responses

- Designing content packages for responses grounded in standards of care for health communications

- Working directly with third-party fact-checkers to disseminate query answers to the public, with a special emphasis on closed messaging integration software Program Service

Tiplines to Combat Misinformation on Encrypted Platforms: A Case Study of the 2019 Indian Election on WhatsApp compares the content received on a WhatsApp misinformation tiplines run during the 2019 Indian general election with content scraped from large, political groups on WhatsApp during the same time period. We found that tiplines capture a meaningful proportion of the most viral content, and, most significantly, this content often appears on the tipline before appearing in the public groups.
