Core Values

COMMITTED
We are committed to providing the best possible avalanche forecasts, awareness, and education programs to provide Utah residents and visitors with the tools they need to stay safe in the backcountry.

CREDIBLE
We are proud to have earned the trust of the backcountry community through decades of experience, and we take our responsibility to provide the most accurate and high-quality safety information seriously.

COMMUNITY ORIENTED
We exist to support the backcountry community while relying on our users to provide observations, feedback, and financial support.

COLLABORATIVE
We are a successful collaboration between the U.S. Forest Service and a nonprofit working together as a single team to fulfill our mission.

PASSIONATE
We are passionate about winter recreation and mountain travel and sharing this love with Utah residents and visitors.

The UAC's core values are the principles guiding and driving how we accomplish our mission.
