A Message from Janice

In this issue, we recognize a few of our newest donors along with those who have been with us since our beginning in 2006. Our oldest donors include Mary Myers and Dr. Hencke and our longest standing board member, Amy Hsieh.

Our newest donors include the Lantern League, The Derek and Shelaine Maxfield Family Foundation, and Mission City Community Fund. We also thank the many new donors who made contributions in memory of Kristie Driscoll, indeed we are humbled by her legacy. Below, is a photo of the Lantern League receiving an award at the Silicon Valley Philanthropy Day ceremony.

Lastly, we include testimonials from our clients and partners who reassure us every day that we are making a difference. We could not do this without you.
Wishing you good health, peace, and joy for 2023.

With much gratitude,

Janice Bremis

Donor Spotlight

“I have chosen to stay connected to EDRC because of the incredible work, dedication, belief, enthusiasm that Janice and team inspire every day to anyone they can give their help to. They are inspirational and their service difficult to explain unless you know their amazing skills and work dedication.” – Mary Myers

Mary Myers and John Kolkka

“I was moved to support EDRC because of Janice's passion for the subject as well as her education. Ever since Janice began EDRC I have been a supporter. She has shared both her personal story as well as those of so many that have been helped by EDRC. EDRC would not exist without Janice's commitment and that she inspires in others.” – Dr. Richard Hencke

Judy and Richard Hencke
“We are grateful for the work of EDRC. We believe every human being has dignity and the quality services of EDRC upholds the dignity of those who benefit from their services.”

- Chris Yadon, Chief Philanthropy Officer, The Derek and Shelaine Maxfield Family Foundation

Meet Amy

“Volunteering for EDRC has enriched my life for the better. I manage EDRC’s Twitter account where I share information about eating disorders, anorexia, bulimia, binge eating disorder and body image. I continue to be inspired by Janice and her team of dedicated staff and volunteers who are helping those struggling with the disease every day.”

- Amy

Amy has over 20 years of experience in fund development for nonprofits and currently serves as the Director of Institutional Partnerships at the GLIDE Foundation. Amy has worked for several nonprofits in the Bay Area and New York City. She first started volunteering for EDRC in 2007 because of her compassion for those suffering from eating disorders. Amy has a background in Fine Arts, enjoys hiking and healthy living, and is committed to helping EDRC impact more individuals throughout the Bay Area who suffer from or care for loved ones with eating disorders.

Meet Sahana

“Volunteering at EDRC has been one of the most impactful experiences of my life. I have met so many incredible people along the way. I am so grateful to be able to educate my community about eating disorders, and I am so thankful to Janice and everyone at EDRC for making such a positive impact on this world.”
We first met Sahana when she participated and won 1st place in our Essay Contest in 2018. Check out her beautiful poem here, be sure to read it backwards. Sahana has contributed over 500 hours of service with EDRC, including leading the Student Action Council and co-founding the Education Initiative for local schools and youth organizations. Sahana was honored with the Young Movers and Shakers award in 2021 by the Santa Clara County Behavioral Health Services.

How your Gifts are Making a Difference

“For the past 3 years I have been a participant and a volunteer at the EDRC support group for parents and friends with loved ones suffering from eating disorders. Being with other parents who are going through the same horrendous experience of learning, helping, managing and fighting for their loved one’s survival and recovery is a lifeline to help combat that overwhelming sense of isolation that is part of this illness. Participants come to these groups in a state of shock, bewilderment and emotional chaos...they walk out with a sense of purpose and hope and armed with a list of resources and lots of support. For many, this is the only source of support. Thank you EDRC for all your dedication and advocacy...you are a true blessing.” – A grateful client
“I am grateful to have the opportunity to find out about the EDRC organization and to get to know you personally. The resources and support provided by EDRC is so critical for patients with eating disorders. Your continual efforts and dedications for such a good cause are deeply appreciated.” – A grateful client
