Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a reasonable basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Upward Transitions, Inc. as of June 30, 2014, and the results of its activities and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

We have previously audited the 2013 Upward Transitions, Inc. financial statements, and we expressed an unmodified audit opinion on those financial statements in our report dated October 28, 2013. In our opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended June 30, 2013, is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited financial statements from which it has been derived.

UPWARD TRANSITIONS, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2014 and 2013

Note 1 – Nature of Operations and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of operations

Upward Transitions, Inc. (Upward Transitions) is a nonprofit organization whose mission is to serve those who are homeless and impoverished by providing case management and stabilizing resources to meet basic social needs. The ultimate goal is to assist individuals and families so they reach their potential with the ability to support themselves and contribute back to their community. The community outreach program assesses client's needs and develops a plan to help clients become or remain self-sufficient. The airport program consists of volunteers who assist the traveling public at Will Rogers World Airport by providing information about airport services and the Oklahoma City metro area. The family outreach program consists of comprehensive case management and transitional housing and homeless prevention services.

Summarized comparative financial information

The accompanying financial statements include certain prior year summarized comparative information in total, but not by net asset class. Such information does not include sufficient detail to constitute a presentation in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Accordingly, such information should be read in conjunction with Upward Transitions' financial statements for fiscal year 2013 from which the summarized information was derived.

Basis of presentation

Upward Transitions reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets. These classes of net assets consist of the following:

Unrestricted net assets – Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed stipulations. Unrestricted net assets are comprised of board-designated (see Note 3) and undesignated.

Temporarily restricted net assets – Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that may or will be met, either by actions of Upward Transitions or the passage of time. When a restriction expires, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions. Temporarily restricted support is reported as unrestricted if restrictions are met in the same reporting period.

Permanently restricted net assets – Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that such resources be maintained permanently by Upward Transitions. Generally, the donors of these assets permit Upward Transitions to use all or part of the income earned on any related investments for general or specific purposes.

Expiration of donor-imposed restrictions

The expiration of a donor-imposed restriction on a contribution is recognized in the year in which the restriction expires and at that time the related resources are reclassified to unrestricted net assets. A restriction expires when the stipulated time has elapsed, when the stipulated purpose for which the resource was restricted has been fulfilled, or both.

Contributions of property and equipment without donor stipulations concerning the use of long-lived assets are reported as revenues of the unrestricted net asset class. Contributions of cash or other assets to be used to acquire property and equipment with such donor stipulations are reported as revenues of the temporarily restricted net asset class. The restrictions are considered to be released at the time of acquisition of such long-lived assets.

Net assets are released from donor restrictions by incurring expenses satisfying the restricted purposes, by occurrence of events specified by the donors, or by the change of restriction specified by the donors.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, demand deposit bank accounts and temporary investments with maturities of 90 days or less when purchased.

Financial instruments valuation

Certificates of deposit are valued at cost plus accrued interest, which approximates fair value. Beneficial interest in assets held by others is stated at fair value as determined by the foundation that holds the assets based on the fair value of the underlying investments. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

Properties and equipment

Properties and equipment are recorded at cost, if purchased, or at fair value at the date of contribution, if contributed. Depreciation is provided on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets, which range from 2 to 30 years.

Impairment of long-lived assets

Periodically, long-lived assets are assessed for recoverability. Provisions for impairment of long-lived assets used in operations are recorded when events and circumstances indicate that the assets might be impaired and the undiscounted cash flows estimated to be generated by those assets are less than the carrying amount of those assets.

Revenue recognition

Revenues generated from exchange transactions are recognized when the service or goods have been provided and the earnings process is significantly complete. Unconditional promises to make a contribution are recognized as revenue in the period the pledge is received. Grant revenue is recognized when all applicable contingencies have been met.

Donated services

Donated services have not been reflected in the accompanying financial statements because no objective basis is available to measure the value of such services. A substantial number of volunteers have donated significant amounts of time to further the objectives of Upward Transitions.

Income tax reporting

Upward Transitions is a not-for-profit corporation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code) and is exempt from federal and state income taxes on related income pursuant to Section 501(a) of the Code. Upward Transitions could be subject to taxation if it generates income unrelated to its exempt purpose, pursuant to the Code. Management believes it is no longer subject to income tax examinations for years prior to fiscal year 2011.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Subsequent events

Management has evaluated events through October 27, 2014, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Note 2 – Beneficial Interest in Assets Held by Others

Upward Transitions has transferred funds to Oklahoma City Community Foundation, Inc. (the Foundation), and specified itself as the beneficiary of the funds. Annually, distributions from the funds are paid to Upward Transitions according to the Foundation's spending policy. The Foundation maintains variance power over these funds. Variance power assures donors that if the charitable purpose of their contribution becomes impractical or impossible, the distributions will be directed to similar purposes in the community. The Foundation also maintains legal ownership of the funds.

In addition to these funds, the Foundation maintains other funds that have been contributed by various donors to the Foundation for the benefit of Upward Transitions. The funds contributed by various donors are not included as assets of Upward Transitions. The earnings from these funds are paid to Upward Transitions each fiscal year. For fiscal years 2014 and 2013, Upward Transitions received $4,557 and $4,362, respectively, from the funds both contributed from Upward Transitions and from various donors. At June 30, 2014 and 2013, the fair value of the funds contributed by Upward Transitions was $8,274. Upward Transitions has no remainder interest in the corpus of the funds. The fair value of the entire endowment, which includes contributions received from members of the community, was $99,966 and $90,913 at June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

In fiscal years 2014 and 2011, the Board of Directors designated property sales proceeds of $20,000 and $97,770, respectively, for refurbishment of Upward Transitions' facilities. As of June 30, 2014 and 2013, the balance of board-designated, unrestricted net assets (consisting of cash equivalents) was $103,137 and $83,119, respectively.

On September 4, 2012, Upward Transitions sold its operating facility for $945,045 in cash. Sales proceeds of $66,782 and $292,325 were used to pay off long-term debt and to purchase two properties, respectively.

	$ 257,475	$ 202,575

Note 6 – Concentrations of Credit Risk

Financial instruments, which are potentially subject to credit risk, consist of cash and cash equivalents, certificates of deposit, accounts receivable and beneficial interest in assets held by others. Credit risk for accounts receivable is concentrated because the majority of the balances are receivable from organizations located within the same geographic region.
