INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors
Upward Transitions, Inc.

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Upward Transitions, Inc., which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Upward Transitions, Inc. as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS) and with the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of Upward Transitions, Inc. and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Upward Transitions, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are issued or available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS and Government Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS and Government Auditing Standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Upward Transitions, Inc. internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Upward Transitions, Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

Other Reporting Required by *Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated December 14, 2023, on our consideration of Upward Transitions Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of Upward Transitions Inc.'s internal control over the financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering Upward Transitions Inc.'s internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2023 and 2022

Note 1 – Nature of Operations and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of operations

Upward Transitions, Inc. (Upward Transitions) is a nonprofit organization whose mission is to serve those who are homeless and impoverished by providing case management and stabilizing resources to meet basic social needs. The ultimate goal is to assist individuals and families in reaching their potential with the ability to support themselves and contribute back to their community. The community outreach program assesses clients' needs and develops a plan to help clients become, or remain, self-sufficient. The airport program consists of volunteers who assist the traveling public at Will Rogers World Airport by providing information about airport services and the Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, metro area.

Basis of accounting and reporting

The financial statements of Upward Transitions are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP). Consequently, revenues and gains are recognized when earned, and expenses and losses are recognized when incurred.

Basis of presentation

Upward Transitions reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets. These classes of net assets consist of the following:

Net assets without donor restrictions – Net assets without donor restrictions are available for use at the discretion of the Board of Directors and/or management for general operating purposes. The Board may designate these net assets for specific purposes which makes them unavailable at management's discretion. Board-designated net assets totaled $326,583 and $325,245 as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively, and were designated for refurbishment of facilities.

Net assets with donor restrictions – Net assets with donor restrictions consist of assets whose use is limited by donor-imposed time and/or purpose restrictions. Some donor-imposed restrictions are temporary in nature, such as those that will be met by the passage of time or occurrence of a future event specified by the donor. Other donor-imposed restrictions are perpetual in nature. The donors of assets that are perpetual in nature generally permit Upward Transitions to use all or part of the income earned on any related investments for general or specific purposes.

Expiration of donor-imposed restrictions

When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, net assets are reclassified as net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restriction. Gifts received with restrictions that are met in the same reporting period as their receipt, are reported as support without donor restrictions.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, demand deposit bank accounts and investments with maturities of 90 days or less when purchased. Cash deposits at financial institutions may at times exceed Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insurance limits. Upward Transitions has not experienced any losses in such accounts and believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash accounts.

Certificates of deposit

Certificates of deposit, with maturity dates greater than 90 days when purchased, are valued at cost plus accrued interest, which approximates fair value. Interest income related to certificates of deposit is recorded in the statements of activities.

Receivables

All grants, contracts, and accounts receivable are due in less than one year and considered to be fully collectible. Receivables are evaluated on an individual basis for collectibility.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost, if purchased, or at fair value at the date of contribution, if contributed. Property and equipment, with an initial value of $5,000 or more, is capitalized and depreciated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the respective assets, which range from 2 to 40 years.

Impairment of long-lived assets

Periodically, long-lived assets are assessed for recoverability. Provisions for impairment of long-lived assets used in operations are recorded when events and circumstances indicate that the assets might be impaired and the undiscounted cash flows estimated to be generated by those assets are less than the carrying amount of those assets.

Revenue recognition

Upward Transitions recognizes revenue from exchange transactions in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers, as amended (Topic 606). Topic 606 applies to exchange transactions with customers that are bound by contracts or similar arrangements and establishes a performance obligation approach to revenue recognition, whereby revenue is recognized when each performance obligation is satisfied. Upward Transitions reports the following revenue from exchange transactions in its statements of activities:

Airport Service Agreement – Upward Transitions operates a volunteer program that provides general information and/or emergency assistance services to the travelers and visitors at Will Rogers World Airport (Airport). Upward Transitions receives quarterly payments from the Airport in exchange for executing the performance obligation of the contract which is the operation of the volunteer program on behalf of the Airport. The performance obligation is met each month as Upward Transitions provides services for the Airport at which time payment is received and revenue for the month of services provided is recognized. Revenues under this agreement are recorded in grants and contracts from government agencies in the accompanying statements of activities and totaled $72,714 for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022.

Unconditional promises to make a contribution are recognized as revenue in the period the pledge is received. Conditional promises to give are recognized when the conditions on which they depend are substantially met. Grants are recognized as revenue once any conditions outlined by the agreement have been met, which is typically when Upward Transitions has incurred allowable expenses that can be charged to the respective grants. Assets received before conditions have been satisfied are reported as refundable advances. There were no refundable advances as of June 30, 2023 or 2022.

Donated services and in-kind contributions

A substantial number of volunteers have donated significant amounts of time to further the objectives of Upward Transitions. Donated services have not been reflected in the accompanying financial statements because no objective basis is available to measure the value of such services.

Contributed goods are recorded at fair value at the date of donation.

Functional allocation of expenses

The costs of supporting the various programs and supporting service activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities. The statements of functional expenses present the natural classification detail of expenses by function. Expenses directly attributable to a specific functional area are reported as expenses of those functional areas. Certain categories of expenses are attributed to more than one functional category. Therefore, these expenses require allocation on a reasonable basis that is consistently applied. Upward Transitions allocates salaries and wages based on actual staff positions. Administrative expenses are allocated to each area based on an estimate of usage.

Income tax reporting

Upward Transitions is exempt from taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. However, it could be subject to taxation if it generates income unrelated to its exempt purpose.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Subsequent events

Management has evaluated events through December 14, 2023, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

Note 2 – Liquidity and Availability

Financial assets available for general expenditure, that is, without donor or other restrictions limiting their use, within one year of the statement of financial position date, comprise the following at June 30:

	2023	2022
Cash and cash equivalents - operating funds	$ 371,307	$ 137,512
Certificates of deposit	88,674	87,738
Receivables	547,375	471,448
Available distributions from beneficial interests in assets held by others	5,176	5,184
Total financial assets available to meet general expenditures within one year	$ 1,012,532	$ 701,882

Upward Transitions maintains a policy of structuring its financial assets to be available as its general expenditures, liabilities, and other obligations come due. General expenditures are defined to include expenditures for general operations and program services, including community outreach. As part of its liquidity management plan, Upward Transitions invests cash in excess of daily requirements in certificates of deposit and money market funds. Occasionally, the Board designates a portion of any operating surplus to its board-designated fund without donor restrictions. While management does not intend to spend these funds for purposes other than those identified by the Board in Note 1, the amounts could be made available for current operations if necessary and as approved by the Board. These funds totaled $326,583 and $325,245 as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

The earnings from beneficial interests in assets held by others are paid to Upward Transitions each fiscal year and may be used for general operating expenditures. See Note 3 for more information regarding beneficial interests in assets held for others.

Note 3 – Beneficial Interest in Assets Held by Others

Beneficial interest in assets held by others (Beneficial Interest) consist of funds, that are perpetual in nature, with Oklahoma City Community Foundation, Inc. (OCCF).

Upward Transitions transferred funds to OCCF and specified itself as the beneficiary of the funds. Annually, distributions from the funds are paid to Upward Transitions according to OCCF's spending policy. OCCF maintains variance power over these funds. Variance power assures donors that if the charitable purpose of their contribution becomes impractical or impossible, the distributions will be directed to similar purposes in the community. OCCF also maintains legal ownership of the funds.

In addition to these funds, OCCF maintains other funds that have been contributed by various donors to OCCF for the benefit of Upward Transitions. The funds contributed by various donors are not included as assets of Upward Transitions. The earnings from these funds are paid to Upward Transitions each fiscal year. Upward Transitions received $5,762 and $5,771, for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively, from the funds both contributed from Upward Transitions and from various donors. At June 30, 2023 and 2022, the fair value of the funds contributed by Upward Transitions was $11,059 and $10,601, respectively. Upward Transitions has no remainder interest in the corpus of the funds. The fair value of the entire endowment, which includes contributions received from members of the community, was $108,639 and $104,243 at June 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Note 4 – Fair Value Measurements

The FASB Accounting Standards Codification established a consistent framework for measuring fair value and fair value hierarchy based on the observability of inputs used to measure fair value.

These inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

- Level 1 Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.
- Level 3 Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

There were no transfers into or out of Level 3 for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, and there were no purchases of Level 3 investments.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

The following table sets forth by level, within the fair value hierarchy, Upward Transitions' assets that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of June 30:

	2023
	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Beneficial interest in assets held by OCCF	$ -	$ -	$ 11,059	$ 11,059
Total	$ -	$ -	$ 11,059	$ 11,059

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Beneficial interest in assets held by OCCF	$ -	$ -	$ 10,601	$ 10,601
Total	$ -	$ -	$ 10,601	$ 10,601

Level 3 measurements

The fair value of beneficial interests in assets held by OCCF is determined by OCCF based on the fair value of the underlying investments. The specific assets held for the benefit of Upward Transitions have been classified within the hierarchy as Level 3 due to their proprietary nature, since they are independently valued by OCCF, and since the assets are not available for redemption by Upward Transitions at the reported fair value.

Market volatility

Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market, and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and those changes could materially affect net assets.

Note 5 – Properties and Equipment

Properties and equipment consist of the following as of June 30:

	2023	2022
Land	$ 150,591	$ 150,591
Buildings	728,619	728,619

Note 8 – Concentrations of Credit Risk

A substantial portion of Upward Transitions' support and revenue is derived from various grants and contracts which depend directly or indirectly on continued funding from the federal and local governments. The loss of these funds, or extended delays of the receipt of these funds, could adversely impact the operations and continued existence of Upward Transitions. The grants and contracts are subject to audit by various federal and local agencies. Amounts questioned as a result of audits, if any, may result in reimbursements to these governmental agencies. Management believes that amounts questioned, if any, will be immaterial.

The majority of the accounts receivable balances are receivables from organizations located within the same geographic region as of the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022. Upward Transitions also had receivables from one organization which made up 23% of the total receivable balance as of June 30, 2023.

OTHER REPORT

REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
AND ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors
Upward Transitions, Inc.

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, the financial statements of Upward Transitions, Inc. (Upward Transitions), which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2023, the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated December 14, 2023.

Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered Upward Transitions' internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Upward Transitions' internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of Upward Transitions' internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

Report on Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether Upward Transitions' financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit and, accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the entity's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.
