Dear Friends,

This year, the economy continued to present challenges beyond what many of us have seen in our lifetimes. Traditional economic indicators ebbed and flowed, sending mixed signals about the state of our nation’s financial recovery. One message, however, could not have been more clear: a record number of people – nearly 44 million, including 15.5 million children – are living in poverty, which leaves more Americans struggling every day to make ends meet and put food on the table.

Now more than ever, MAZON’s longstanding commitment to preventing and alleviating hunger remains steadfast. In 2010, with support from generous donors like you, our grantmaking totaled more than $4 million, which we distributed to more than 300 carefully screened hunger relief organizations. We found new ways to streamline our operations so that even more of the precious dollars you give us go toward our grantmaking. And we began a groundbreaking initiative to increase access to healthy nutritious foods for the millions of Americans who have been forced to utilize the emergency food network, many for the very first time.

None of this work would be possible without the unflagging support of our extended MAZON family – staff, board, grantees, partners and donors like you, whose compassion moves them to share whatever they have with people who have so much less. Your generosity brings help and hope to thousands of people who might otherwise despair. We are infinitely grateful for the confidence you place in us, and with your help, we will not fail.

Barbara H. Bergen
Acting President
MAZON is a national nonprofit organization focused on combating hunger. We are dedicated to inspiring, educating and mobilizing American Jews in support of ending hunger wherever it exists, strengthening the impact of hunger relief programs and advocating for public policy that values and promotes self-sufficiency.

Each year, MAZON makes grants to carefully screened hunger-relief agencies, including emergency food providers, food banks, multi-service organizations and advocacy groups that seek long-term solutions to the hunger problem. Through the direct efforts of our grantees, we seek to embody twin Jewish ideas: tzedakah (justice) by providing food for those who are hungry today, and tikkun olam (repairing the world) by working to ensure that no one goes hungry tomorrow.

MAZON’s funding philosophy

MAZON makes annual grants that support every aspect of the anti-hunger community, including meal distribution, food banking, grocery delivery, nutrition and hunger awareness education and advocacy.

We place a heavy emphasis on advocacy and policy reform, because we believe that effective, responsive public policies and programs are essential to addressing the underlying causes of hunger and bringing about lasting change. As such, we require that our grantees engage in advocacy in some form as a condition of their grant.

We believe in repeat funding for grantees that are high-performing, meet our grantmaking criteria, and have demonstrated impact. This approach creates a sense of partnership between the grantee and MAZON, and allows grantees to maintain the continuity of their anti-hunger work.

* In 2009 MAZON changed its reporting year from a calendar year to a fiscal year ending June 30, which resulted in a shortened grantmaking year and fewer funds distributed.
